

Static charges on outer packing of products entering a metal detection tunnel are all too often identified and rejected by the system as containing metal.

Simply installing a 3850 Ionstorm bar or a 1250S AC ionising bar (device selection related to package dimensions) above and across the tunnel entry will eliminate this costly and time wasting issue.

